Automated communications to bring customers into your dealership

Porsche AfterSales Marketing Services offers an assortment of automated messages to help keep your customers informed of the service opportunities you provide for their Porsche — all designed to strengthen loyalty and increase retention. Specific improvements include updated creative for each piece with a fresh look and feel.

Messages available through the program, via direct mail or email, include:

Service Reminders

These messages notify customers about upcoming services recommended for their vehicle or alert them to a missed recommended service while also featuring offers selected by you.

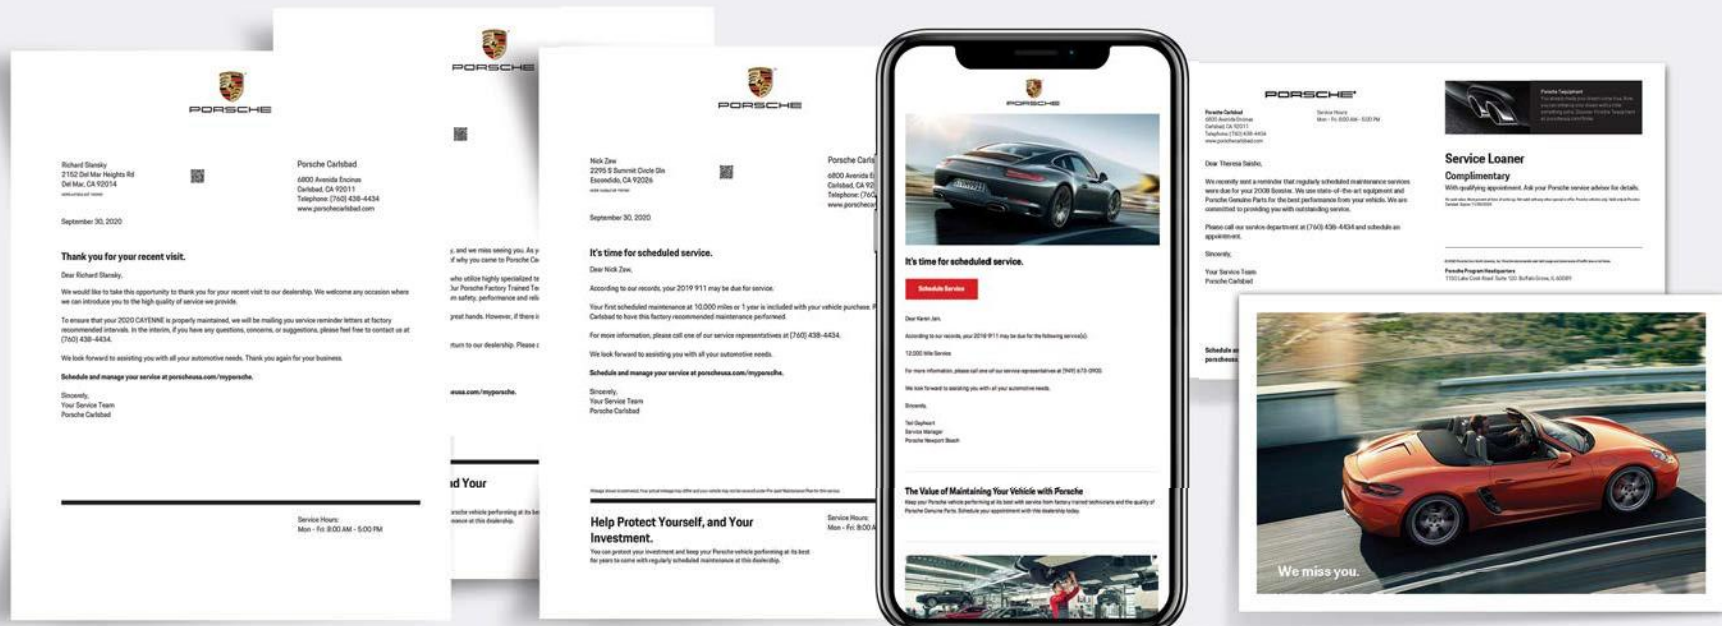

Declined Service (Coming soon)

These messages thank customers for completing their recent service while reminding them about additional recommended services that they have declined to complete. Declined messages may also feature customizable offers.

Inactive Customers

These annual messages target customers who have not visited your dealership in over 18 months. They also feature customizable offers.

The right message at the right time

Using data from your DMS system bundled with predictive algorithms and the combined knowledge of all Porsche dealers worldwide, this new program is the most powerful in identifying which customer is due for their next service.

The right channel for each customer

With a digital-first strategy, the program is more cost-efficient than ever. Enticing customers via digital channels to book a service appointment makes a printed letter the final step, not the first one.

Available and planned channels include:

- Email
Sending highly personalized service reminders into the customer's inbox
- My Porsche
Messages in the notification center direct customers to Xtime appointment booking available in My Porsche
- Text Message (Coming soon)
For customers who have opted in to receiving SMS text messages on their phone
- Push Notifications (Coming soon)
Customers with the Porsche app on their smartphone will receive push notifications
- Letters and Postcards
The final touchpoint if a customer does not react to any digital channels

All this with seamless integration into your Xtime online scheduling solution.
